You are about to finish senior high school (SHS). It is worthwhile to think about your options for college. You are doing a little research to help you make wiser decisions. Ask yourself some questions:

1. What are your interests?
 2. What are your strengths? What are your weaknesses?
 3. What domains of knowledge did you most excel at in SHS?
 4. Where do you want to work someday? How much money do you have to spend on your education? Is this something you can finance on your own or do you need to take on a loan? How much load are you willing to take on?
 5. Have you decided on a course to take up in college?
 6. Do you have any career fields in mind?
 7. Which colleges offer programs in your fields of interest?
 8. How much tuition do you have to prepare? What other costs would be involved (e.g., dormitory, boarding house, transportation, books, and supplies)?
 9. What are the starting salaries in your career or field of interest?
 10. If you are taking a loan, how long will it take for you to finish paying it off?
